

'Life' - Sukanya Dutta

'Life' – the word intrigues me all the time It's like a hundred bells chime in my head at the same time.

What is life – I ask my inner self I need to know, so I seek help from the man, plant or the elf.

What is it that runs in the body and gives us the reason to breathe?

What is the force beneath that we feel but cannot ever touch?

The feeling is raw and it gives a clutch in my soft yet strong heart

And it prepares me to start another day with a bigger strive

Perhaps, this is the joy of being alive.
